Procedures for Handling Communications to the Board

The Board has designated the Company’s General Counsel or his or her designee as its agent to receive and review written communications addressed to the Board, any of its Committees, or any Board member or group of members. The General Counsel or his or her designee may communicate with the sender for any clarification. In addition, the General Counsel or his or her designee will promptly forward to the Chair of the Audit Committee any communication alleging legal, ethical or compliance issues by management or any other matter deemed by the General Counsel or his or her designee to be potentially material to the Company.

As an initial matter, the General Counsel or his or her designee will determine whether the communication is a proper communication for the Board. The General Counsel or his or her designee will not forward to the Board, any Committee or any director communications of a personal nature or not related to the duties and responsibilities of the Board, including, without limitation, junk mail and mass mailings, business solicitations, routine customer service complaints, new product or service suggestions, opinion survey polls or any other communications deemed by the General Counsel or his or her designee to be immaterial to the Company (“Immaterial Communications”).

Separately, the Company’s Audit Committee has established a Whistleblower Policy for the receipt, retention and treatment of complaints received by the Company regarding accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters and the confidential, anonymous submission by associates of the Company of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters.

The General Counsel or his or her designee will maintain a log and copies of all communications other than Immaterial Communications, which any director may review upon request. The General Counsel or his or her designee will review the log periodically, but not less than annually, with the Chair of the Audit Committee.
